- Keep the full serif p intact.
- Keep the honey dot tight to the upper-right without touching.
- Use Deep Moss + Muted Honey as the primary expression.

DON'T

- Add gaps, breaks or ligature tricks.
- Isolate “ive” or use it as an icon.
- Add bees, honeycomb, family silhouettes or literal childcare symbols.

Slightly more organic than Lucide, but visibly related.

No filled icon style unless a state requires it. No bee-themed icons.

Photography direction

Quietly documentary

Natural window light · warm-neutral white balance · low/moderate contrast

Lived-in, cared-for, achievable homes. Earthy textures: wood, linen, cotton, ceramic, plants.

Representation

Broad and equitable across gender, race/ethnicity, age, family composition and household type.

Avoid

- frazzled-parent or crying-parent imagery
- exaggerated chaos / staged distress
- before-and-after disaster tropes
- sterile white interiors or luxury-only homes
- assuming helpers / domestic work are women

SAY

Choose what you'd like off your plate.

Make a little more room for life.

Some weeks could use another pair of hands.

NOT THIS

We'll rescue your messy home.

Get your life back.

Busy mama?

Use contractions and you/your. Light wit is okay; sarcasm is not. Keep exclamation marks restrained.

Preferred words: lighter · breathing room · capacity · ease · support · space.

Avoid distress framing such as burnout / overwhelmed unless the context specifically calls for it.

Service naming and helper identity

RESET

Use when the result is a clearly restored ready-state.

Laundry Reset · Kitchen Reset · Playroom Reset · Bedroom Reset · Baby Gear Reset

OUTCOME FIRST

Use explicit outcome names when they are clearer than “Reset”.

Fold & Put Away · Dinner Prep · Tomorrow's Lunches · Produce Prep

Avoid cute names, bee puns and internal chore-industry language.

TIME ONLY WHEN TIME IS THE DELIVERABLE

Primarily continuous childcare.

Uninterrupted Hour · 3-Hour Date Night Care
